

A brief statement of interest:

- I am pleased to express my interest in the At-Large Board Member positions at Architectural Research Centers Consortium (ARCC). With a strong background in design education and extensive experience in leadership, I am incredibly interested in this position as my commitment to research, practice, and teaching with my experience, aiming to create a more progressive momentum within ARCC.

Over the past three years, I have had the privilege of serving as a conference proceeding coordinator and research workshop task force member at the Interior Design Educators Council (IDEC) where I have been deeply involved in service. Prior to the IDEC activity, I was a student board member at Environmental Design Research Association (EDRA). During the period, I organized the student scholarship, student workshop, as well as student conference awardees. My commitment to organizing the members' research outcomes and following achievements has been a cornerstone of my work. I am enthusiastic about bringing this dedication to the role of At-Large Board Member positions at ARCC.

- I am particularly interested in this position because of the opportunity to lead the ARCC activities, where I made my first presentation of research in 2017. Due to my experience as a student and as a faculty member, I am uniquely qualified to enhance ARCC's visibility and attract a diverse group of researchers. The organizational and documentation skills I possess will facilitate effective coordination in order to ensure a cohesive and robust organization with high performance levels.
- I am excited about the possibility of serving as At-Large Board Member and am committed to fostering a professional learning environment and achievements at ARCC. Thank you for considering my application. I look forward to hearing from you soon.
